Releasing Habitual Fear and Panic - Calm Detachment

- ☒ This essence is for letting go of fear and breaking the pattern of habitual fear which fuses emotional and causal bodies together causing a universal form of emotionalism.
- ☒ Very effective when we agonise over catastrophies. Breaks the chain that starts with one person and leads to mass panic. Engenders a calm mind and an understanding of what's behind disaster.
- ☒ States of mind focussing on change, escape or deep anxiety will be eased by this essence.
- ☒ It helps us understand that we're not alone and never have been, that we're powerful not powerless.
- ☒ It gives us the awareness that fear separates us from love. It allows us to feel supported by life.
- ☒ Excellent for nightmares or received fears from society such as fears of abandonment, of being alone, of being attacked of food poisoning, accident, illness and so on.
- ☒ It's helpful when we long to live without fear but we're afraid to face our fears because we feel we'll need tremendous courage to react differently in situations in which we have habitually felt terrified, powerless or unsupported. It helps us see that when we go past the fear what lies beyond is love.
- ☒ Red Clover is calming, soothing and enlightening. It gives us the courage to detach from our own fears and helps us stay in peace and not energise any fear in those around us.
- ☒ Particularly useful for those who have a negative outcome expected. It allows us to accept unexpected love and healing into our situation.
- ☒ Fear can become a security, it protects us from the challenge of addressing our worst fears.
- ☒ Helps us when we're emotionally blocked off due to a fear of our emotional nature. We may fear the damage that feelings can bring so we suppress our emotions hoping this will prevent them from causing problems, but in doing so we reduce our enjoyment of life. Red Clover gently encourages our emotions to emerge so that changes can be integrated without stress. Indications of emotional blockage are when we appear cold or calculating; everything is directed to practical ends so that “watching the world go by”, or doing “useless” things may appear a waste of time. The problem is due to a blocked off (intuitive) brain function. Red Clover encourages communication between the two sides of the personality. The left (logical) brain then begins to trust the activities of the right brain and rejoice that it has such a great partner to work with!
- ☒ It's also a useful essence when we tend to be overly mothering and smothering; wanting to do everything for everyone in order to feel wanted and loved.
